Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Many great minds have aired their opinions on the age-old debate about the relationship between science and the written Word of God. For those who sit on extreme sides of the fence, there is no middle ground. Contrary to these extremes, my career as a biological scientist and my faith as a Bible-believing Christian mean that I have the privilege of seeing things from both sides of the fence. I find more often than not that scientific data complements the written Word of God. Blood from a scientific and scriptural perspective, is one such example. Blood from a Scientific Perspective: Science has unravelled many functions of blood that are vital for mankind's natural life. We now understand why blood dyscrasias and disrupted blood flow to cells and tissues in the body, have health consequences that range from minor ailments to major organ damage, and even death within minutes. Blood from a Scriptural Perspective: Blood is just as important for our spiritual life. Long before the age of science, the God of the Bible ensured that all, who draw near to Him, are aware that it is the life of the flesh, sacred and precious in His sight. He also made it clear that sacrificial blood is an absolute necessity for approaching Him. Otherwise sinful mankind will perish in the holy atmosphere of His presence. Moreover, the uncompromising nature of God's holiness is such that not just any blood will do. Certain divine stipulations must be adhered to, for the blood to be spiritually effective. When these stipulations were met with sacrificial animal blood in the old covenant, mankind enjoyed the privilege of a close relationship with God,...
