By Arnosky, Jim.

Putnam. 1 Cloth(s), 2013. hard. Book Condition: New. A naturalist who has written more than 90 books for children, Jim Arnosky lends his delightful animal illustrations to this tale for readers 4 to 7 about a young burro who is nervous about moving to a new place. Little Burro's home canyon in Arizona has everything she needs it's breezy and cool on a hot day, and warm and cozy at night. But one day, her band of wild burros decides to travel to the lake. She does not want to go; she only follows when her mother calls for her to come. But when they arrive, Little Burro is surprised to find that the lake is a wonderful place and when it's time to return home, Little Burro again doesn't want to go."Arnosky has created a relatable protagonist with personality to spare, without relying on anthropomorphized characterization. His understated, compelling narrative offers a great read-aloud choice that will work just as well, if not better, one-on-one; the story naturally lends itself to a discussion of desert flora and fauna. Acrylic and white chalk illustrations reflect the habitat's sweeping, ever-changing beauty. The pictures have subtly shifting color schemes that follow Little Burro's adventures...
