It has also been my aim, by briefing and generalizing, to make the work suitable for a text book in the Army and the various Military Academies, covering, as it does, that course of training which, taken in connection with the school of the soldier, is essential to the proper training of all soldiers. I have purposely avoided separating the exercises on the various machines into times and motions, in order that the instructor might introduce such additional exercises and variations as seem to him most proper. Those explained in the text are deemed sufficient to call into play all the muscles and parts of the body; but it is expected that the instructor...
